OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

OFFICE OF THE EXECUTIVE VICE-PRESIDENT

Dear Alumni:

The student leaders of Northern Arizona University are particularly excited about their first N.A.U. homecoming event. They have asked that I extend a special welcome to all alumni expressing our appreciation for your presence with us today, and for giving us the opportunity of seeing your families as we celebrate homecoming.

We are proud of your sons and daughters who are attending school here, and of the sons and daughters of your friends. These young people rank in ability above the average in universities across the nation, but what is more important is their attitude towards getting a university education.

We have given a great deal of time during the last six months for future plans at Northern Arizona University, and I am sure that you will be pleased to know these plans involve a concern for ways and means to keep the student and faculty relationship open and friendly. As the institution grows from year to year, we believe it will require some special treatment. So important is this topic that several special committees have been set up to lead the discussion for the entire faculty.

I am extremely sorry that the annual budget meeting of the Arizona Board of Regents conflicts with N.A.U. homecoming, but I do hope I will be able to return in time to visit with hundreds of you in the evening.

Best wishes for a very pleasant homecoming to each of you at Northern Arizona University.

Most sincerely

J. Lawrence Walkup
J. Lawrence Walkup
President

Dear Alumni:

I am honored to have the opportunity to welcome the Alumni back to their Alma Mater. It is even a greater honor to have served your Alma Mater for sixteen years and to feel that I have played a small part in what has taken place. President Walkup has exerted outstanding leadership characteristics over the years and has led NAU to its place as one of the finest Universities of its type in the nation.

Excellence in scholarship of students — faculty excellence that places NAU second in the nation in faculty training — a fine physical plant — all these are extremely important. However, the most outstanding characteristic (when added to the others) is the friendliness that pervades the campus. The exemplification of the motto, "To Become Educated Is To Become More Human," makes NAU stand by itself in the world of Higher Education.

We leave NAU with memories that we shall retain forever. A new challenge has presented itself. We only hope it will prove as pleasant as ours has been here. Our son remains to graduate a Lumberjack. The rest of us will remain with you at heart. We wish only good things for NAU — all its students, faculty, and Alumni — in the future.

President Elect
Trenton State College
Trenton, New Jersey 08625

Homecoming King and Queen

Vivacious, red-haired Ann Gannon, junior from Tempe, and personable Kermit Smith, senior from Flagstaff, reign as King and Queen of Northern Arizona University's first Homecoming.

Queen Ann is president of Gamma Phi Beta social sorority, president and secretary of the Panhellenic Council, treasurer of the Little Sisters of Athena, and a member of the student senate. She is a sales and marketing major.

King Kermit, a Grand Canyon High graduate, is secretary of the Chain Gang and is active in many campus groups. Last year he was vice-president of the NAU Associated Students. He is an accounting major.

Homecoming Dedicattee

First dedicattee of Northern Arizona University is Dr. Minnie Roseberry, a beloved, dedicated teacher who has been a member of NAU's education faculty for 35 years.

Dr. Roseberry, associate professor of education and supervising teacher at NAU's elementary school first grade, has never stopped learning and has contributed much to Arizona education and to many teachers and prospective teachers at NAU, and when it was known as Arizona State College.

High among her contribution was her service in 1950 as Northern Arizona delegate to the White House Conference on Education in Washington, D.C.

TODAY'S GAME

This is the first Homecoming game under the banner of Northern Arizona University, and it should prove to be good one. Central Missouri brings a 2-1 win-loss record, while the Lumberjacks, revitalized following its 14-13 win last Saturday over Idaho State, should be going all-out for another win.

Two spectators today, each an alumnus of Central Missouri and NAU, will not be rooting for their alma mater. NAU President J. Lawrence Walkup is a graduate of Central Missouri, and Dr. Walker of Central Missouri received his M.A. from NAU.

The Central Missouri "Mules" is of unknown quality, but they should be able to provide plenty of "kick" to the Lumberjacks. The Mules quarterback Ken Brumley is a JC All-America, and the line is bolstered by another juco All-America, guard Richard Haynes.

Today's game should provide the spectators with plenty of action, as both teams utilize passing to the utmost.

Fellow Lumberjacks:

How the years are flying by! It just seems like a few months ago that we were welcoming you to the 1965 Homecoming.

The many physical changes you see on your campus are necessary in trying to keep up with the growth of the student body. The most encouraging feature that can be reported, regarding your old Alma Mater, is that the students, faculty and administration are ever striving in keeping the old tradition that the individual is of the greatest importance on our campus.

The Alumni Dinner will be at the new Elks Club (straight north on San Francisco Street, as far as you can go), from 7-9 p.m.

Don't forget we have two dances tonight — one on campus and the other at the Elks Club. The dance on campus will be the type of music the old Alums will enjoy until about 10:30 p.m.; then folk and rock and roll will take over until 1:00 a.m.

So nice to have you back on campus.

IT'S GREAT TO BE A LUMBERJACK!

Alumni Secretary

Fellow Alumni:

It is wonderful to welcome all of you back to the campus on this first Homecoming as Northern Arizona University. Many of us have been proud and loyal Alumni under several banners, but we are proudest of all now that our Alma Mater has attained university status.

Becoming a university creates new responsibilities for all of us. Not only will the programs on-campus be strengthened and increased, but the Alumni Association off-campus needs to be strengthened in order to give more support to the on-campus activities.

I am sure the old "Lumberjack" spirit will continue to prevail as it has in the past. It has been this spirit and determination that has been the only factor to carry us through on many occasions.

The future of NAU looks like there will be many, bigger and better things to come in the near future. I am sure all the loyal alumni stand ready to do whatever is best for their Alma Mater.

Don't forget the get-together immediately after the game and the banquet for those with reservations at the Elk's Club.

With best wishes and fond memories.

Yours truly,

Amy Worthen
President, Alumni Association
Northern Arizona University

1966 HOMECOMING

"MAIN STREET U.S.A."

We, the 1966 Homecoming Committee, would like to welcome all past and present Lumberjacks to this year's Homecoming. This is the first Homecoming being held under our new name: Northern Arizona University.

This year's theme, "Main Street U.S.A.," reflects the past, present, and future of America. It reflects the ideals that have evolved on the Main Streets of our country and that have spread across the nation. As our main streets emerged into towns and cities, so grew our school systems from small one room school houses to multi-structures. NAU also has changed and grown with Main Street and has become a nucleus of learning.

From Arizona Normal School to Northern Arizona University was a long step, but will not be the last one. As Main Street grows, so also must we grow and expand in our ideals and horizons. We must ever be looking to the Main Street of the future.

Homecoming links the hope of the future with the traditions of the past. We hope that "Main Street U.S.A." will be a memorable experience for both the alumni and the students of NAU. We thank all those who have co-operated so wonderfully with us in this endeavor; without them Homecoming 1966 would not have been possible.

Sincerely,

Robert Welch

VETERAN LUMBERJACK ANNOUNCER

Andy Wolf, Flagstaff businessman, begins his 26th year as announcer for the Northern Arizona University Lumberjacks. In 1935 and '36, Andy made All-Border Conference and was captain of the Lumberjacks in 1936. A three-year letterman, Andy played offensive guard and defensive tackle under Mark McIntosh and Garret Arbelbide. In addition to announcing all Lumberjack football games, he has announced the All-Star games since they originated. He also announced the Kiwanis sponsored Salad Bowl games held in Phoenix a number of years ago.
