PRESIDENT

When Dr. J. Lawrence Walkup was appointed president of Northern Arizona University 21 years ago, the enrollment that fall semester of 1957 was 1,142 students and the campus encompassed 18 buildings on 162 acres. This fall, more than 12,500 students will be utilizing the 60 buildings located on 686 acres to advance their educations.

In keeping with the needs of a growing university, the opening of a new nursing building, the planning of additions to the library and bookstore and of course the opening of the 272,000 square foot multi-purpose domed stadium reflected Dr. Walkup's vision of the university's needs during his presidential tenure. The northland now has a wide range of educational programs at all levels because of his guidance.

Dr. Walkup first came to NAU in 1948 as director of the university elementary school and two years later, he was named head of the Education Department, equal today to the Dean of the College of Education. Later, he was named Dean of Instruction for the University and in 1955, he was named Dean of the University.

Throughout his long and distinguished career in education, Dr. Walkup has served in many roles and has been honored many times by numerous organizations and societies. He has been teacher, coach and administrator. He received his undergraduate education at Central Missouri State University and his advanced degrees from the University of Missouri. Dr. Walkup was a finalist for Arizona Sports Personality of the Year in 1978.

Dr. Walkup and his wife, Lucy, a former teacher, have a grown daughter.

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Athletics at Northern Arizona University received a motivational boost when T. H. "Hank" Anderson was named athletic director in the spring of 1974.

Hank Anderson and the Big Sky Conference are familiar with each other — He helped in organizing the fast growing league in the early 1960's and his guidance and direction have been sought by all members of the Big Sky as well as other institutions across the country, at one time or another.

Anderson spent 21 years as head basketball coach and athletic director at Gonzaga University then was head basketball coach at Montana State University for two years before coming to NAU to restructure the Lumberjack athletic fortunes.

For his immediate influence not only on NAU athletics but around Arizona as well, Anderson was a finalist for the Arizona Sports Personality of the Year in 1977.

During the winter of 1977, Anderson's former basketball players at Gonzaga staged a reunion and the former Gonzaga players that played for Anderson who now are doctors, dentists, educators and businessmen was testament enough that he did his job well — in working with young people.

When Anderson gave up coaching to become athletic director at NAU, he ranked in the top 10 of active coaches for career wins with 318. His Gonzaga teams shared the Big Sky title in 1966 and 1967 and he was Big Sky Coach of the Year in 1966.

Anderson, who was graduated from the University of Oregon in 1941, had a 167-43 record as a prep coach at Grants Pass, Baker and Madford — all in Oregon.

He is a charter member of the Holme Basketball Hall of Fame. From 1966-72 he served as director of the greater Spokane, Wash., Sports Association, and he and his wife, Betty, are the parents of five grown children.

NORTHERN ARIZONA UNIVERSITY

Northern Arizona University is heading, full steam, into its second decade as a university which gives high priority to the needs of its students on an individual basis.

The University's rich history has been developed on taking a personal interest in the students and helping them to become responsible citizens who in turn, make a contribution to society.

NAU gained university status in the spring of 1966 and from that point, the enrollment has doubled to the more than 11,500 who are in attendance this fall.

More than 80 percent of NAU's enrollment comes from within Arizona; however, students from every state plus many foreign nations attend NAU.

NAU has responded to the educational needs of not only Arizona but the region and nation. With a massive outdoor laboratory, NAU is becoming more and more recognized for its quality in research projects.

NAU first opened its doors in the fall of 1899, some 13 years before Arizona became the 48th state of this nation on Feb. 14, 1912. Last May, NAU celebrated its 11th year of university status and during that span, NAU has grown in stature. Since opening, NAU has gone through a series of name changes since the initial name of Northern Arizona Normal School covered the 1899-1925 era. The first four-year graduate was Jake Bracker in 1927 and he is now a retired businessman in Phoenix.

NAU is located near the center of Flagstaff on the 6,800-foot Coconino Plateau and the 686 acre tree-shaded campus is well known for its beauty.

The university lies in the shadows of the 12,600-foot San Francisco peaks which is the highest spot in Arizona. Nearby is the delightful Coconino National Forest which has the largest stand of ponderosa pine in the world.

More than 76 percent of NAU's teaching faculty possess the earned doctorate and this ranks NAU third nationally for state institutions.

NAU offers degrees from the associate level through the doctorate and students can choose from more than 100 areas in which to earn their bachelor degree. NAU offers degree programs through the Colleges of Arts and Science, Business, Creative Arts, Education, Engineering and Technology, Public and Environmental Service plus the schools of Applied Science and Forestry. The graduate college administers all advanced studies.

NAU is centrally located and students have access to some of the most spectacular scenery in the world. Flagstaff has a world-wide scientific name as Pluto, the ninth planet in our galaxy was discovered here, much of the early research on Mars was accomplished here the U.S. astronauts received some of their training here and the back side of the moon was mapped in Flagstaff.

For more information on enrolling at NAU, write Dr. Milt Schroeder, dean of admissions and records at box 4103, Flagstaff, Arizona (86011) or telephone (602) 523-2108. (SEE PAGE 50 FOR SOME OF NAU'S COURSE OFFERINGS).

LUMBERJACK FOOTBALL COACHING STAFF

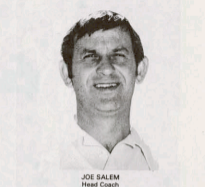

Stock in Lumberjack football has taken a sharp up-turn and the man behind that surge in the past three years has been Joe Salem who is heading into his fourth year as Northern Arizona University's head coach.
Last fall NAU finished 9-3 and tied for the No. 5 spot nationally in the first NCAA Division II poll and for this, Salem was named Big Sky and NCAA District 8 coach of the year honors. His 1976 team was 8-3 and strongly showed things were bright on the horizon for NAU football.

Before coming to NAU the 40-year old Salem had been head coach at the University of South Dakota for nine years and his teams there won 29 of their last 37 games and sharing North Central Conference titles in 1972, 1973 and 1974. Salem's first NAU team in 1976 was 1-9, but that crew was mostly freshmen and those "yearlings" will be putting on their collegiate pads for the first time this fall.

As a player, Salem helped quarterback the University of Minnesota to the 1960 national title and a shot in the Rose Bowl. He then spent five years as an assistant at Minnesota before going to South Dakota, taking over a team which he inherited at NAU.

Strong academic counseling and insistence that his football players work steadily toward a degree program has been a Salem trademark during his 12 years as a head coach. As a result, more than 90 percent of Salem's players have graduated over the past 12 years. "We want our players to have a positive attitude toward their alma mater once their playing days are over," says Salem. "A college degree helps in this respect."

Salem and his wife, Sue, have four sons - Tim, 16, Wade, 14, and eight-year old twins Brad and Brent. Tim is a budding athlete on his own, having started at quarterback at Flagstaff's Coccinino High as a sophomore last fall. Wade is a developing baseball player and throws a solid mop-up NAU football practice.

JOE SALEM
Head Coach

JERRY JANSON A five-year member of the Salem staff, the 28-year old Janson is in his third year of coaching the defensive backfield. He coached the defensive line for two. A graduate of Carthage College in Wisconsin and he earned his master's degree at Ohio State where he was a graduate assistant during the 1972 and 1973 seasons, working with national championship Buckeye teams. Earned varsity letters at Carthage College in football, basketball and baseball.

PAT MORRIS is new to the Northern Arizona University football coaching staff, having joined NAU for spring drills to replace Dick Hensch who entered business in Flagstaff. He will coach the offensive line. The 24-year old Morris is a 1976 graduate of the University of Southern California. Morris played offensive guard on the 1975 USC team which won Rose Bowl and national titles. He also played on the 1976 Liberty Bowl championship team. A graduate of Alamy High in Mission Hills, Morris played eight years of rugby during high school and college days.

DAN RUNKLE is the man behind the chalk that has drawn up the NAU defense which has led the Big Sky in total defense and defense against the rush the past two seasons. NAU led the Big Sky in defense against scoring last year and was 13th nationally against the rush. This is Runkle's seventh season as Joe Salem's defensive coordinator. Since Runkle joined Salem's staff, the duo have worked out a 47-23 record. The 32-year old Runkle earned 10 varsity letters at Illinois College - four each in football and basketball and two in baseball. He earned his master's at Western Illinois. In the summer, he coordinates the NAU Sports Camp. Runkle and his wife, Joella, are the parents of an eight-year-old son, Tad, and a two-year old daughter, Sara Joella.

JIM CLEMENTS The 38-year old Clements is in his third year of coaching the NAU defensive line and his forward wall has been a key factor in several NAU games over his span. Served as a graduate assistant in 1975 and has helped with the steady progress of the tough NAU defense. A graduate of Arizona State University who earned his master's degree at Eastern Michigan. Coached 12 years in native Detroit and at Flagstaff High before coming to NAU. Has been outstanding at working with young defensive linemen and developing their skills. Has been a key member of the NAU booster club fund raising staff. He and his wife, Holly, are the parents of three children, Julie, 12, Torrey, 6, and Jill, 4.

PAT LAVIN one of the top prep coaches in Arizona high school history joined the NAU staff in the winter when Mike Sharkey left to take the offensive coordinator's post at his alma mater, Eastern Illinois. Lavin, 36, will coach the offensive backs. A 1968 graduate of Arizona State University, Lavin earned his master's at NAU in 1974. After graduating from ASU, Lavin was assistant at Phoenix St. Marys then took the head job in 1971 and held it until coming to NAU. His seven-year mark was 64-19-2 and he had four consecutive Division and State playoff appearances before coming to NAU. He coached 14 All-Stars, including two prep All-Americans. He and his wife, Linda, have three children, Jeanne, 6, Tracy, 7 and Natalie, 5.

We're just right for you.

ROOM WITH A VIEW...

Arizona is such a fabulous state, it's a shame to miss a single scene. And the thought behind our monthly television program is to bring as much of its color and history into your living room as possible.

Now in its eighth year, "Copper State Cavalcade" features a different look at the Arizona scene each month. A visit with the Hopis, Navajos or Apaches. Down the Grand Canyon with Major Powell. The American cowboy. Archeological digs and helicopter flights. Join us in our next monthly presentation of "Copper State Cavalcade." It's Arizona's longest running non-news TV program. And another reason why Phelps Dodge means a lot more than just copper.

TONIGHT'S GAME

By Lee Shappert
Arizona Republic Sports Writer

Cal Poly-Pomona has been a longstanding opponent for Northern Arizona University in football — dating back to the Arizona State College at Flagstaff days.

The Broncos have been a longstanding thorn in the heel of the Lumberjacks too!

At Homecoming two years ago, the Broncos came into Flagstaff without a four starts while NAU had not lost. When the dust had settled, Cal Poly had its first win of the season, a 9-7 conquest of the Awers.

The Broncos' second-year head coach Jim Jones has installed the wishbone attack offensively and they will be bringing a 1-2-0 mark into tonight's game. Cal Poly opened with a 16-14 home loss to San Francisco State then took a narrow 15-13 home win from Sacramento State and last week the Broncos lost at Chico State, 23-3.

If NAU's "cardiac Capers" continue, more than one ambulance near the sidelines — and it won't be for injured players, they will be for the fans, players and coaches!

Last week in Moscow, Idaho NAU kept its Big Sky Conference record unblemished at 3-0 with a last-second 34-29 win over the University of Idaho. NAU did not lead in that game until Ray Smith picked up a blocked punt by Neal Higginson and raced 35 yards to score the game-winning points with just 14 seconds left on the clock. Overall, NAU is 4-1 on the season.

Over the last two and one-half years, NAU stands 8-1 in games decided in the final six minutes and for the largest part, they have been decided in the final four — fans have learned to never leave early, especially if NAU is trailing.

NAU seldom has many individuals ranking high in the league or national statistical listings, nor is the team especially at the top. Good teams find a way to win. NAU seems to have patented that trait, especially over the last three years.

Whose turn will it be this week to step forward and take the bull by the horns — err, pardon, — the bronco by the tail?

NEXT WEEK: The first 30 open dates will fill the Lumberjack football schedule next week. On Oct. 21, NAU will be in Greeley, Colorado to take on the University of Northern Colorado. Key games around the Big Sky next week (Oct. 14) will find Idaho State at Montana State, Idaho at Montana in Conference games and in non-conference action San Jose State is at Boise and Weber State at Utah.

The New Chevrolet.

The 1979 Caprice Classic

America has driven it to the top.

In just two short years over a million people have bought and enjoyed The New Chevrolet Caprice and Impala. Pretty darn impressive.

Of course, one reason for the success of The New Chevrolet is that it's simply a very beautiful car. And we suggest the '79 version is even more beautiful.

But then we know it takes more than beauty to become the most popular car in America. It takes roominess. It takes some very impressive standard features. It takes a smooth, comfortable ride. And more.

The New Chevrolet for 1979. Pleasing to the eye. Pleasing in lots of other ways, too.

driven it to the top.

All the technical advancements come down to this:

Getting the color right, automatically. That's what the 1979 ColorTrak is all about.

Last year RCA sold more color televisions than any other year in its history.

One reason is the ColorTrak stem—a remarkable achievement it's been made even more remarkable for 1979. This year, forTrak grabs the color, aligns it, fines it, sharpens it, tones it and fits it on track more automatically in ever before.

ne tunes every channel, automatically.

The 1979 ColorTrak is the most automatic color set in RCA history. It's made to bring you natural, like color—the right color—without bothersome adjustment and retuning. In fact, ColorTrak's new art crystal ChannelLock Tuner is accurate you'll never have to fine tune a channel again. Ever.

A new ChannelLock Tuner uses a vibrating crystal to locate and lock in each TV channel. Automatic device completely eliminates the need for tuning.

Just for varying colors, automatically.

You've probably noticed how colors can change when a commercial new program appears. ColorTrak's with that problem two ways: automatic Color Control continuously monitors color and adjusts it automatically. Colors stay consistent in scene to scene, program to program, channel to channel.

In addition, ColorTrak is equipped with Dynamic Flesh-tone reaction that automatically keeps skin tones warm and natural, for a pleasantly lifelike color picture.

Adjusts for changing room conditions, automatically.

A color picture that looks fine when your TV room is dark may appear too dim when you turn on the lights or open shades.

ColorTrak's Room Light Sensor helps overcome this by automatically making the picture brighter. Colors stay rich and vivid.

To help even further, our black matrix picture tube has specially tinted phosphors. They actually absorb reflected room light, to reduce glare on the screen.

Experience the 1979 ColorTrak at your RCA Dealer now.

There are many other features that contribute to the magnificent RCA ColorTrak picture.

But all the features and technical advancements really come down to this: RCA wants you to see the right color. On every program. On every channel. Every time you turn on your set.

CAL POLY-POMONA

Cal Poly-Pomona Administration Building

California State Polytechnic University at Pomona is 14,500 strong student-wise and is growing. The academic program is administered through six schools — Agriculture, Arts, Business Administration, Engineering, Environmental Design, and Science. Degrees are granted through 54 areas at the undergraduate level and 14 at the master's level.

The 1,268-acre campus, which lies 23 miles east of Los Angeles, is the largest in the California State University-College system. The campus in Pomona was opened in 1938 as a branch of Cal Poly in San Luis Obispo and in 1949 millionaire cereal magnate W.K. Kellogg donated his 814-acre arabian horse ranch to the state, making possible the expansion of the Pomona campus and in 1956 the original Cal Poly-Pomona campus which was located at San Dimas was relocated to the current site.

As a result of Mr. Kellogg's donation, the university holds Sunday Arabian horse shows and the Brohco which is the mascot is a high stepping Arabian horse, appropriately named: "Special K."

Cal Poly fields athletic teams at both men's and women's levels. NAU and Cal Poly-Pomona have met 14 previous-times and NAU holds an 8-5-1 football edge.

NOTE: See Cal Poly-Pomona profile on page 69.

The Golden Eagle Award

Ed Hightower came to Northern Arizona University with two objectives in mind — to get a quality education and to play on a winning football team. He is meeting both objectives nicely, thank you, and the Lumberjacks will be missing his services on the gridiron next fall — which will not be a "thank you."

Hightower performed at Prescott High where he was All-State as a fullback and a linebacker as well, a rarity today to see a player distinguish himself both offensively and defensively. As a result, his services were sought by a number of colleges and universities in the Rocky Mountain West — he picked NAU, just as his grandfather, Roger Hightower had done in the early 1940's. In fact, Ed's father Robert was a toddler as was his identical twin brother Bud, when the elder Hightower (Roger) was starting as an end for the Aztecs in the pre-World War II years.

Ed's father is retired from the US Army and is a sophomore, himself, majoring in bio-chemistry at NAU. His uncle "Bud" is retired from the US Navy.

Jon, Ed's younger brother, is a freshman defensive back at NAU this fall, giving the Aztecs four brother combinations.

Ed stepped in as a starting linebacker his sophomore year, after having seen action as a starter some of his freshman year (1975). Ed was on 123 tackles his sophomore year. He had 36 as a frosh. As a junior, Ed moved to end — an outside linebacker — on some plays, and he had a team-leading 129 tackles. Starting his senior year, Ed had 288 tackles, forced 14 fumbles, recovered five fumbles, caught opposing backs for losses on 24 occasions and he has 10 pass

The Eagle has traditionally symbolized pride and excellence. That is why we bear the Eagle as our symbol and are happy to award the Golden Eagle to those student athletes who perform with pride and excellence.

Last fall Ed earned All Big Sky honors and was among the various players around the nation receiving votes for Academic All-America.

The 1978 football season marks the third consecutive year that NAU has had 10 of its 11 defensive starters come from Arizona high schools.

Ed has been a cornerstone on the NAU defensive unit which led the Big Sky Conference in total defense and defense against the rush in 1976 during an 8-3 season and during last fall's 9-3 finish. NAU's defensive unit led the Big Sky in total defense, defense against the rush and scoring defense and was 13th nationally in defense against the rush.

THE GOLDEN EAGLE AWARD this week goes to Ed Hightower for his outstanding athletic and academic background as a Lumberjack. Each home football game and at selected basketball games, GOLDEN EAGLE SALES will honor an outstanding NAU student-athlete who has excelled on the athletic field as well as in the classroom. To qualify, a student must be a varsity letterman and maintain a minimum 3.0 (B) cumulative grade average.

Ed has demonstrated his leadership abilities in class and he has certainly been a positive influence from an academic stand point in the classroom," says his advisor, Dr. Helen Oswalt. Ed's latest classroom feat hit the 3.583 figure at the end of last spring semester. He is majoring in recreational management.

Starting his senior year, Ed had 288 tackles, forced 14 fumbles, recovered five fumbles, caught opposing backs for losses on 24 occasions and he has 10 pass

FROM THE PRESS BOX

With Wylie Smith,
NAU Sports Information Director

Tonight's opponent, Cal Poly-Pomona has been the lone school to halt NAU's last-minute victory scheme over the last two and one-half years. At Homecoming two years ago NAU went into the game 4-0 and Cal Poly had not won in its four starts. The Broncos blocked a 28-yard field goal attempt with 25 seconds left to preserve a 9-7 win.

Otherwise, NAU has kept the pants on the edge of their seats on eight successful occasions. Last week Neal Hoggson blocked a punt which Ray Smith picked up and returned 35 yards to beat Idaho, 34-29 on the road in the final 14 seconds.

Last year NAU scored late to nip Augustana of South Dakota 31-30 with 3:37 left. At Idaho State last fall NAU scored 22 points within a span of 2:17 in the final 4:13 rest the Bengals 28-7. NAU kicked a 54-yard field goal with 2:04 left to beat Montana 25-24 in the first game ever played in the NAU Dome last fall. And the Abers scored nine points in the final 4:01 to seal off Nebraska-Omaha 37-21 last fall!

In 1976, NAU was nursing a 14-13 lead at Nebraska-Omaha and the Abers exploded for 14 points within the final 2:18, to win 28-13. At mid-season NAU rallied from a 21-7 deficit and a game-ending field goal brought a 31-28 win over Nevada-Las Vegas. At Cal-Fullerton NAU trailed most of the game but a 28-yard end around with 6:45 left gave NAU a 20-17 win.

The above is the profile of a winner. The good teams find a way to win and Salem-coached Lumberjack teams have picked up that trait!

THE RECORD SECTION: Last week senior fullback Carl Golden scored twice, giving him 20 career TD's which equalled the record set from 1956-59 by Ron Cole. Golden is a two-time first team All Big Sky choice and a two-time AP All-America selection.

Tyrone Peterson, senior wide receiver has already broke the 28-year old school mark for receiving yardage and he goes into tonight's game with 1,816 yards on his 93 receptions. Vince Casterna holds the reception mark of 98 which he set from 1947-49. Casterna has held the yardage record at 1,667. Al Rex's career TD reception mark of 13 is in jeopardy as Peterson has 12 and junior Ken Fraser has 11.

Allan Clark is on the verge of becoming the second 2,000-yard career rushing in NAU's history. He has 1,915 yards and the school record of 2,233 was set by Dave Estrada from 1961-64.

BIG SKY COUNTRY

The Big Sky Conference begins its 16th season of operation in 1978-79 with Championships being decided in eight sports, including cross country, football, wrestling, basketball, golf, tennis, indoor and outdoor track and field. Eight schools are currently members of the league with a ninth invited to join the conference for the 1979-80 season.

Charter members of the BSC, which is one of two major conferences located in the Rocky Mountain region are, Gonzaga University, Spokane, Wash.; the University of Idaho, Moscow; Idaho State University, Pocatello; the University of Montana, Missoula; Montana State University, Bozeman; and Weber State College, Ogden, Utah. Boise State University, Boise, Ida., and Northern Arizona University, Flagstaff, joined the league on July 1, 1970. The conference has member schools in six states and covers more than 220,000 square miles (or almost 1/12th of the total square miles in the continental United States). The name Big Sky originated in a novel authored by A.B. (Bud) Guthrie of Great Falls, Mont. in 1947 entitled THE BIG SKY.

Harry Missidine of the Spokane SPOKESMAN-REVIEW called for the conference to be named "The Big Sky Conference" in his column of Feb. 20, 1963. NORTH DAKOTA STATE OUTLOOK

Opening on the road against the defending North Central Conference champion North Dakota State Bison will be a more regular season play ranked No. 7 in the NCAA Division I poll will be a more challenge for NAU.

Coach Jim Weicker rebuilt the Bison football while he was on packing his bags in Fargo and his first team won the NCC crown and then lost a semi-final NCAA playoff game to eventual national champion, Minnesota State. Weicker's success won another NCC title last fall and led to the semi-finals of the NCAA playoff game at Jacksonville, Florida 27-7. The season ended with a 10-1 record in games at Flagstaff 28-0. Weicker won two National NAU Division I crowns at Texas Tech in 1974 and 1976 and finished a 7 year record of 28-16 in the Texas school, including a 20-14 record in Flagstaff in 1973. Weicker has 27 of 46 wins from back.

PORTLAND STATE OUTLOOK

Portland State generally does more running on the field before the game and at halftime than they do during the game - they generally follow an all-out strategy - but all the things averaged 57.4 yards a game, completing 20.6 per game for 37.4 yards a game, and led the nation's Division I schools in total offense, averaging 558.7 yards a game and averaged 27.8 yards a game.

Coach Dave "Musser" Dease led 3 seasons in 1975 and 1976 and a 7th season last fall. During the three years at Portland State, he has a 4-1 record against Big Sky teams. Before Dave, Portland State was 6-27 against Big Sky schools. Portland State has a lot of talent at its skill spots and has added depth the past few seasons, so that could be Portland State's best team since becoming a four-year school in 1965.

Idaho State played with a lot of emotion last fall and the Bengals could have easily won two more Big Sky games and finished 4-2 instead of 3-0 overall and 2-4 in league play. Idaho State led NAU 7-0 with 4:17 left. However, NAU scored 22 points in the next 2:17 to win the hard fought defensive struggle. Montana snapped OSU 17-13 late in the game. Second year head coach Leo "Blue" Hale will welcome back 29 of 37 letterman plus an incoming crop of top players.

The NAU OSU series has been on again. In Pocatello, NAU is 0-3 and the series in Flagstaff stands 3-3-1. From 1961-66 NAU and OSU took turns spanking each other's homecoming celebration. NAU won in Pocatello 14-13 in 1966, 20-21 in 1964 and 30-26 in 1967. The Bengals won in Flagstaff 27-0 in 1967, 13-21 in 1965 and the teams played a scoreless tie in 1965.

Third year head coach Gene Carlson spent the summer getting acquainted against "Snake Bite." No one can blame him as he had a two year (8-12 record) at a major major and of those 12 setbacks, 10 had up to a total of 47 yards, 4-7 yards a loss. And he had them all up to a smart right point! Well 4-7 of letterback. Those close games could fall on the Grizzlies' feet this fall.

Montana will be the pass to its attack and with this diversification, the Grizzlies will be much harder to shut than the one run oriented attack teams prepared to stop Montana's offense will be among the best in the league and the Grizzly skilled personnel will also be top. NAU faces the Grizzlies 23-21 in Missoula two years ago and 28-24 to open NAU's new Dome in Flagstaff last fall. Montana will come back, couldn't be the surprise team of the league.

METEOR CRATER

ARIZONA'S FAMOUS NATURAL LABORATORY

Meteor Crater - the world's best preserved and first proven meteorite crater - is 4,150 feet from rim to rim, three miles in circumference and 570 feet deep. Such man-made wonders as the Washington Monument and the massive Great Pyramids of Egypt are dwarfed by its giant dimensions.

The meteoritic mass from interplanetary space that tumbled out Meteor Crater, 92% iron, 7% nickel, traveling at 30-33,000 miles per hour, struck the earth here with a force of a multi-megaton hydrogen bomb, splashing nearly half a billion tons of rock from the crater and probably destroying all plant and animal life within a 100-mile area.

Bill Blass is entering his 73th year as head coach at Northern Colorado and he's had just two losing seasons since taking over as head coach in 1958—than first year and last year and he's produced a 77-32-2 mark and ranks as one of the winningest active coaches in Division I circles. Blass recruited heavily from the junior college and received three state players from four-year schools—quarterback Jeff Knappe and wide receiver Steve Gaucy, both winners at the University of Colorado and defensive tackle, Jeff Bushawek from Michigan.

Blass and NAU head coach Joe Salerni inaugurated their head coaching careers against each other in 1958 while Salerni was head coach at South Dakota. Salerni won that encounter 27-13 and Salerni won again 38-14 in 1968. NAU and UNCC stand at 1-1. NAU finished at 48-7 and in 1968 because of an ineligible player. The last time the teams met, NAU won 23-0 in 1965 in Greeley.

Although Sonny Lubick is in his first year as head football coach at Montana State, he is no stranger to the Bobcat program. Lubick was an assistant for eight years at Montana State, so continuity in the successful program is likely to remain high.

Montana State claimed the 1978 national NCAA Division I crown and was ranked No. 1 in fact with being crowned at Boise. NAU beat the Bobcats last fall 28-27 for the first Lubick-led win since 1971. Both NAU and Montana State were unbeatens as they play later in 1978 and the Bobcats finished NAU 23-0 in Bozeman that were on its own national crown.

Montana State has won more football titles than any other school in the league's history—six in the 75 years of the Big Sky's existence. Boise State, who joined when NAU did in 1970, has won four.

BOISE STATE OUTLOOK

What do you say about a team that has won four of the last five Big Sky football championships? Well, what else if it, you say it with regret because Boise State University's Broncos will be in the battle for again this fall despite losing 29 percent, including the bulk of the offensive line that turned out to be devastating the last two-thirds of last season.

Third year head coach Jim Crowl has made two plays to Flagstaff — one as a player at Cal Poly-Pomona in 1961 and he and his Bronco teammates won 55-12, in 1976. Crowl brought the Boise State Bronco team to Flagstaff during his first year as head coach and led to NAU 42-7 in a game the Aztec took advantage of several Boise mistakes. Boise will again be a team to be concerned about in the Big Sky year.

WEBER STATE OUTLOOK

After having been caught in a four year slum cycle, Weber State football made strong comeback toward rebounding strongly under the direction of new coach Pete Rammann who guided the Wildcats to a 4-0 record last fall. With a little luck, Rammann felt Weber could have just as easily 7-3 ... in with 27 letterman-back to growth a sound recruiting season, Weber could be a favorite team that fall if a game were more complete and the new players to the mold.

Weber's passing game topped the Big Sky and was among the national leaders all season and the bulk of that attack is back as if a consistent running game can complement the pass. Weber's offensive attack could be awesome.

NAU and Weber will be meeting for the 15th consecutive year, the longest continual series for the Aztec since their early days of the old Border Conference.

Highways. Ben, throughout your career as an outdoor writer you've defended the concept of multiple use management of public lands . . . what about the future?

Avery. We're going to have to intensify our management of these resources. Ranching, hunting, picnicking . . . and scores of other activities may coexist in harmony, but we know that recreational use potentially is most destructive. We're especially challenged to minimize the impact of too many people concentrating at sensitive areas, such as boggy meadows. On the other hand, the Rim today is a classic example of man's use improving the forest. Thinning dense stands of trees for pulpwood over the past decade has greatly improved the health and beauty of the woodlands. I've always maintained that beauty, too, is a manageable resource.

Walter Davis

Carol Brown

Carol Brown

"Ranching, hunting, picnicking and a score of other activities co-exist in harmony here on the Mogollon Rim . . . where beauty is a manageable resource."

Highways. In recent years it's become almost a trite expression — by studying nature, human beings can learn about themselves. What are some of your introspections . . . ?

Touchik. Well, for one thing, by and large we are brought up to believe that human life is unique. Truth is, we share the same metabolism with warm-blooded animals. We share the same bone structure with birds, with amphibians. Their physical marvels are no less. In an eagle it is our thumb bone which spills air off the top of the wing to keep the bird from stalling. We think our thumb is nifty. So is the eagle's. There's another aspect. In our superior way, we assume that happiness is solely a human emotion. I swear I have seen birds flying the ridges of the Rim Country for the sheer joy of flying . . . not going anywhere in particular, just loving it.
